What We Are Learning!

We had a great second week of Pre-K! The littles are beginning to learn our routine, prayers, and songs. We read and talked about the many ways we are alike and different and enjoyed playing games about "Who Am I?" and "Whose Nose?" We stamped their fingerprints and looked at them through magnifying glasses. We made an eye color graph and found out we have the most blue eyes. They painted their names with Q-tips and even wrote in shaving cream! We did a journal page about "Getting to Know Me" and made some cute paper dolls. They also had fun rotating through several science centers including measuring water and looking at some cool rocks. The littles really enjoyed spending some outside time with our 8th grade buddy class.

Our first Show and Tell went really well and will continue every Wednesday morning.

Notes:

If you are new to St. Mary's or have never taken the Initial Child Protection Training course, you will need to take the on-line class before volunteering to help with parties or field trips. There is an on-line refresher course for those who have already had the initial. Please complete this training by Friday, September 30th.

They are bringing their nap mats home to be washed. Please send them back in on Monday, Tuesday, or when your little returns.

Have a GREAT weekend!
