What We Are Learning!

Wow! We made it through our first full week of Pre-k! The littles are beginning to learn our routine, prayers, and songs. We read and talked about all the many ways we are alike and different and enjoyed playing games about "Who Am I?" and "Whose Nose?". We stamped their fingerprints and looked at them through magnifying glasses. We made an eye color graph and found out we have the most brown eyes! They painted their names with Q-tips and even wrote in shaving cream! We did a journal page about "Getting to Know Me" and made some cute paper dolls. We had a GREAT first show and tell.

Notes:

We started the first phase of our Handwriting Without Tears Program (HWT) by introducing the wood pieces and building and singing about Mat Man. We will be making our very own Mat Man soon and next month we will start practicing a letter of the alphabet each week.

If your little would like to bring in a small stuffy (that fits easily in their backpack) to sleep with during naptime it is fine.

Have a GREAT weekend!
