What We Are Learning!

We have had a busy week in Pre-K. We continued talking about the many ways we are alike and different and all about our families. Thank you for sending in the pictures. They have enjoyed telling us all about their family. In our first phase of Handwriting Without Tears (HWT) we used our wood pieces to talk about vertical, horizontal, and diagonal lines and practiced some easy prepositional words. We even used the wood pieces for playing music and singing the Hokey Pokey. They drew Mat Man in their journals and had fun making their own Mat Man to hang in our hallway. Ask your little to tell you about Mat Man! We also rotated through several math centers, played with Mr. Potato Head Families, and practiced cutting skills with Play-Doh.
