Miss. Beck's 8th Grade

First quarter has come and gone.....8th grade year is going by so quickly! Attached to this newsletter is your students first quarter grades. Please sign and return Monday. I am very proud of the work your kids have put in this quarter. They are working hard and it shows!

If you have any questions about your students grades, please feel free to text or email me at any time!

This upcoming week is Parent Teacher Conference on Tuesday and Thursday. If you need a reminder of when you time is, let me know!

If your student is missing any documentation for the beginning of the year enrollment, the office sent home a letter this week with what is still needed. Please ask your student if they received this and send in the requested documents asap!
