Dear Parents and Guardians,

More information on Catholic Schools Week will be coming soon!

Classroom Highlights

Welcome back and Happy New Year! The children did a wonderful job jumping right back into our classroom routines and expectations. It has been so great to see their smiling faces and excitement about being back at school. We started the week by talking about the New Year and what it means. We enjoyed a craft to go along and shared our thoughts about new beginnings. With winter officially here, we have begun learning all about snow! We are exploring how snow forms, how it melts, and what it turns into. One of our books we read was 'Sneezy the Snowman' and after the story the littles created their own melted snowman using puffy paint and explained why their snowman melted. We also enjoyed water-painting snowmen. I have almost completed assessing your little one, and I am so proud of how much they have grown already this year!
