Miss. Beck's 8th Grade

The first full week of classes is officially in the books, and it went wonderfully! Our eighth graders did a fantastic job singing at Mass and even stepped up to help guide our new sixth-grade choir members as they participated in their first Mass of the school year. It was wonderful to see our students leading by example and helping our newest middle school students feel welcome and confident!

Your students have done an excellent job getting back into the swing of things. They have been incredibly flexible and positive as they learn new routines, responsibilities, and expectations for middle school. I am so proud of the way they have started the year and am excited for all that is ahead!

Reminder: Student Handbook signature forms are due August 28. Please also take a moment to review your FACTS information and make sure your contact information, especially your email address and phone number, is correct and up to date.

Thank you for helping us start the school year on such a positive note!
