Weekly Round Up

We had a fantastic week in pre-k! This week our theme was pizza and we celebrated with pizza themed centers and stories each day.

This week's letter was Bb. We practiced letter recognition, handwriting formation and the /b/ sound for both upper and lowercase Bb. We read our second mini book this week and it's been so exciting to watch them grow in their confidence with this!

Keeping with our letter of the week, we got to meet our fifth grade buddies! All of the kiddos were so excited to show their big buddy around the playground and it was so sweet to watch them interact together.

In math this week, we continued working on sorting by color, shape, and object. We also began working on our numbers.

We wrapped up our week with a "B is for Bobe's" party. I surprised the kids by transforming our room into a pizza parlor. We wore our pajamas, made our own mini pizzas with stickers, built a pizza box tower, designed our own chef hats, and read about the history of pizza.
